Rescue Dogs for Adoption

November, 2017

At Paws for Life, dogs like Boss and Truffles need your donations so that we can continue to give dogs shelter and help them find loving homes. This means an addition to a family rather than an addition to statistics on doggy death row. We work hard to save as many loving, pet-quality dogs from overcrowded shelters as we possibly can, considering each dog and learning from our time with them what they could be if only given a chance! Please help us accomplish this—it takes time, money, and a great deal of tender loving care!

his new best friend
Boss

Jordan, who has a debilitating disease which makes him spend all his time in a wheel chair, asked Make-a-Wish Foundation to pay for Boss's service dog training after falling in love with Boss on the PFL web page, and they agreed. Boss has now settled in with Jordan and his family at their home and goes to Service Dog training school two times a week. Jordan and his family's goal is to have Boss go to college with him next year. In the meantime, Jordan in his wheel chair takes Boss for walks and Boss is giving Jordan hope and doggie love.

Truffles, a chocolate lab mix who came from the Brandywine SPCA, was one of the worst cases where 14 dogs were totally malnourished and diseased and four of them died. Truffles was one of the lucky ones! Paws for Life took her to the vet who gave her the 4DX test and everything came back positive. Before she was treated Truffles weighed 43 lbs.; now she is fit and happy at 65 lbs. It took lots of money to get her better and time for her to trust again. But now she enjoys swimming, fishing and being with her new family.

These are only two of our happy stories this year; Paws for Life is best known for the hundreds of dogs each year they save from high kill shelters or bad situations and put in loving families. Some of the families who have rescued our dogs say that the dog rescued them or their child. Your help will make even a greater difference! Please know how much your tax deductible donation to Paws for Life does for our four legged friends. As a 501c3 organization (Tax ID 52-2042769) any donations are fully deductible to the extent allowed by law. Our rescues are counting on your generosity and warm hearts!

Sincerely,

Virginia Suarez
